The opinions expressed in this column are the personal views of the writer and do not necessarily reflect those of the management; in fact, many times they do not.

NEW YARDSTICK?

A statement by one of the speakers at the Bourbon rally held at Martinez a couple of nights ago would put into force and effect a new yardstick by which to measure party loyalty.

Whether the orator was carried away by his exuberant enthusiasm at the moment or made his declaration after due thought and consideration I do not know, but it allowed it would bring about an entire change in our way of doing politics and relegate party machinery to oblivion.

His assertion was to the effect that any man who did not agree with Roosevelt and his policies was not a Democrat and would not be recognized as such.

THE PARTY PLEDGE

It is no strain on the memory to recall the Democratic platform which Mr. Roosevelt publicly said on many occasions immediately after its adoption, and hundreds of times during the campaign, he accepted in its entirety and would rule of guidance in handling the affairs of the nation, in event of his election. That platform contained promises which the American people expected him to keep. It was the party's pledge to the country relative to governmental acts and principles.

BROKEN PLANKS

With one exception that of the return of liquor—every pledge has been either ignored or broken and the president has charted his own course in an entirely different direction than that mapped out for him and with an indifference to (Continued on Page 8)

Co. Supervisors Medics Discuss Hospitalization

A plan for the private hospitalization of citizens and physicians' services for nominal amounts was discussed last evening at a joint meeting of a group of physicians from the County Medical Association and the entire membership of the Board of Supervisors, held at the Hotel Carquinez.

The discussions were the outgrowth of a demand made on the supervisors some time ago for passing the control of the county hospital over to a joint committee of doctors and laymen. This was refused. Another request for general admission to the hospital could not be granted as the facilities are inadequate to cope with the situation that would thus be created.

The medical men recognized that there are many who are unable to meet regular hospital costs, and pay the regular fees of a physician, yet are reluctant to go to the county hospital, such action on their part, nominally at least, labeling them as charity patients. On the other hand they are in a position to pay something and are willing to do so.

The suggestion was made that the medical men submit a plan and present it to the supervisors, and if agreeable, then an ordinance would be drafted and passed embodying it. That is the reason for the meeting last evening, at which complete harmony of views prevailed. However, before definite action is taken another meeting will be held in the next two weeks at which it is expected a definite conclusion will be reached, and later officially presented to the supervisors.

The discussions took place at a dinner session, which lasted for several hours.

Healey May Ask For Indictments

MARTINEZ, Oct. 31.—"If the evidence develops, conditions that warrant, I will ask for indictments," District Attorney Francis P. Healey declared today as he continued his investigation of the seizure in the Rancho San Pablo gambling raid on October 17 of a roulette wheel and slot machine, claimed to have been previously seized in raids and ordered destroyed, and a half pint beer gas bomb.

"If evidence of embezzlement of public property, in which I believe the alleged circumstances fall, is established in testimony before the grand jury, I will ask that indictments be returned," the district attorney said.

"As for the beer gas bomb, that perhaps constitutes theft and a high misdemeanor, which is an indictable offense."

The district attorney indicated he had received additional information from an inquiry being conducted by Investigator Melvin Myatt and Deputy Sheriff Ralph Harrison but will not disclose its purport.

The beer gas bomb was one sent in a consignment by the Lake Erie Chemical company to a Contra Costa corporation.

Defendant Wins Money Award In Damage Action

MARTINEZ, Oct. 31.—A double victory was scored today by Attorney Thomas M. Collins and Robert Collins of Richmond and Jess Nicholas of Oakland when a jury trying the personal injury suit of J. P. Cannon versus Elvira McCray, brought in a verdict declaring the plaintiff any part of the $10,000 damages he sought, and awarded the defendant, whom they represented, the sum of $2,000.

The accident occurred at San Pablo and Alameda avenues on June 21 of this year when the cars of the parties to the suit were involved in a collision. Cannon claimed to have suffered a knee injury and concussion of the brain.

A cross-complaint was filed by the defendant McCray in which he alleged that Cannon in making a left hand turn from Alameda into San Pablo avenue operated his car in a careless and negligent manner and was responsible for the mishap. He suffered contusions and abrasions about the ribs and an injury to his right knee, and a broken bone in the sum of $8,000. The jury after deliberating for an hour fixed the damages for McCray in the sum of $2,500.

James P. Hovey of Martinez was the attorney for the losing plaintiff.

Students Of Italy Score Great Britain

ROME, Oct. 31.—UP—A speech by Premier Benito Mussolini denounced "Great Britain and plutocratic power" attempting to halt "young Italy and its Blackshirt" sent hundreds of students shouting through the streets tonight in a demonstration against Great Britain.

Threats were hurled outside British stores but no one was injured.

Guard at the British Embassy were reinforced to 60, including carabinieri, plainclothesmen and metropolitan police.

DEFIANT NOTE

If Duce's defiance of Britain and the League's efforts to halt his Ethiopian conquest inflamed student sentiment, already strongly anti-British because of the steady drumming against Britain in the press.

The defiant public attitude reflected a stiffening official position. The British Office spokesman explained a meeting that Baron Pompeo Aloisi, Italian delegate, is going to the League meeting at Geneva prepared to examine peace proposals but not to offer any.

NO ILLUSIONS

"No illusions are entertained by official," he added, emphasizing that Italy will not accept any settlement of the Italian-Ethiopian conflict not in keeping with Fascist dignity.

After Mussolini's speech, delivered at a dedication of 29 new university buildings, student leaders organized the mass into a parade which wound through principal thoroughfares, blocking traffic.

Many of the students shouted anti-British slogans. Isolated groups, paired to demonstrate before the goldsmith shop of Mapin Webb and the store of Robert Evans, two of the principal British-owned places of business in Rome.

The Embassy was in no danger and authorities described the increased guard as "preventative."

DIVORCE GRANTED

Mahan Pal INVADERS Arrested REPULSED On Tanker BY TRIBES

Clarence Silva, 29, parole violator and Weyhauser kidnap suspect is in the county jail, where he was taken, after being arrested last night on board the Standard Oil tanker H. M. Bates, it was today by Sheriff John Miller, Deputy Sheriff Ralph Harrison and Deputy Sheriff Ralph Beck.

Silva, who was paroled from San Quentin in June of 1934, admitted that he was in Tacoma at the time of the kidnapping of the Weyhauser boy and that he saw while there, William Mahan, the collector of the $200,000 ransom from the Weyhauser boy's father and originator of the kidnap plot.

Silva was sent to San Quentin from Yolo county in 1930 on a charge of attempted murder. He was paroled and later returned for parole violation. His latest release from the institution was on June 1st, 1934, and was secured through the intercession of one A. G. Dawn, whom investigation later developed to be a notorious name used by the notorious Mahan. The latter offered him a job, but could not tell the name of the man. He admitted contacting Mahan at that time, but denied participation in the kidnapping.

The technical charge on which Silva was taken into custody was violating his parole by writing letters to George Ketz of Berkeley in which he threatened to shoot the latter if he disclosed certain information which Silva had imparted to him. Members of the tanker's crew said they had seen a pistol on Silva several times during the voyage here from the north.

In San Pablo

"False Alarm"

An excited citizen called the El Cerrito police department last evening, "Come quick, officers," he shouted in the telephone, "a car has been hit by a car and he's lying out on the street at Cypress and San Pablo."

Police Officer Howard Thelin hurried into the radio room and with siren wide open rushed to the scene.

A cold, still figure lay crumpled in the middle of the street, beneath the glare of street lights and automobile headlights. A silent, awed crowd gathered about the scene.

Officer Thelin walked to the body which was lying face down, and turned it over.

"He's dead," Officer Thelin said, "he's picked up the cleverly constructed dummy and placed it in the rear seat of his car."

YOUR COOK

Type of food to be prepared
Amount of food to be prepared

THE first thing to do is to decide what to cook. It is not always easy to choose a dish that will please everyone. Sometimes the best thing to do is to ask the family what they would like. If you are not sure, you can always ask the children. They will usually tell you what they want.

After you have decided what to cook, you should think about the amount of food you need. It is better to have a little extra than to have not enough. You can always freeze the extra food for another time.

Now that you have decided what to cook and how much, you can start to prepare it. If you are cooking a large meal, you should start with the things that take the longest time to cook. This will give you time to prepare the other things while the first things are cooking.

When you are cooking, it is important to keep everything clean. Wash your hands often and keep the kitchen clean. This will help you to cook better and make the food taste better.

After you have finished cooking, you should serve the food. Make sure that the food is hot and that it is served in a clean dish. You should also make sure that the food is served in a timely manner.

Now that you have served the food, you can relax. You have done a good job and the family will be happy. You should feel proud of what you have accomplished.

Answer to J. H. Smith's question: The best way to keep beans from becoming too soft is to cook them in a pot of water. Do not add any salt until the beans are almost done. This will help them to keep their shape and taste better.

Short Cuts

A new gadget for speeding beans does the job in half the time. You simply put the beans through a hole in the pot and draw them through all holes in the pot and cooking.

Baking powder should not be used in the same way as it is used in the past. It should be used in a different way to get the best results.

The Mother-in-Law Situation Again — This Time Over a Fur Coat

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

A BELLIGERENT mother and an unreasonable husband can do nothing but ruin the happiness of the one person in the world they both love. My sympathy goes out to the girl caught in a jam between their conflicting wills and temperaments.

You and Your Child

Laughter at Child's Expense Unkind

By JANE HERBERT GOWARD

"CAN you remember any of your funny stories, Lillian?" The child smiled self-consciously. For though it pleased her to be drawn into adult conversation, it was as yet a new experience for her.

"Why does a chicken cross the road? Do you know, Uncle Tom?" "To get on the other side," I guess," Uncle Tom replied dryly. No one but Lillian seemed to be amused. "Yes, that is right," she said. It apparently made no difference to Lillian that her uncle had guessed the answer. If he had not been able to give the answer, she would have told him gladly.

Lillian was undisturbed likewise that no one laughed. Mother, on the other hand, was embarrassed. "I didn't mean that joke, Lillian. Why, that's as old as the hills!" "No it isn't mother, I just heard it today," Uncle Tom gave a short laugh. It was more a deeply spoken "Hah!" than a laugh and startled the six-year-old. She looked at him queerly. Then turning back to her mother she asked a serious question. "It's still a good joke, isn't it?" This was greeted by a prolonged and hearty laugh from Uncle Tom. Lillian watched uncle and her mother enjoying themselves, puzzled because her own words, "Isn't it?" still were in her mind. No one so much as troubled even to say, "You bet!" No one, in fact, thought an answer necessary.

When you laugh at a child under five, he generally follows the crowd and laughs, too. It pleases him to be the center of attention and while this may tend to make him self-conscious, it is not likely to impair his ego. At about six, however, a child's attitude toward the world in general is changing. He is beginning to be aware of himself as having some connection with this world, of being a part of it. In short, he is beginning to take himself seriously. You may laugh or not at his jokes, but try not to laugh when he is serious. At least try to temper your laughter by saying something kind to him.

With the first mixture. Stir in 1 cup hot water and flavor with 1 teaspoon vanilla. Bake in layers in a moderate oven 25 to 30 minutes. Cover thickly with white frosting.

Has Been Tactless

Anyway, I imagine you have been tactless about the whole thing and have, in consequence, made matters much worse for yourself than they might have been. Give in about the coat to the extent that you would dearly love to drop her in ermine, but that unfortunately it cannot be done, and that you cannot bear the idea of seeing her in cheap furs. If she must have a fur coat try to put some common sense into her by persuading her she will really be much better dressed in a good cloth coat, with or without fur at the neck, than she would be in an imitation fur. Not only better dressed, but warmer.

I am afraid you have a mother-in-law complex, or is your attitude toward her justified? I don't see much happiness ahead for anyone, fur coat or no fur coat, unless you and the mother-in-law formulate some sort of peace plans and try to stick to them. Getting in a temper and flouncing out in a huff isn't a very dignified attitude for a full-grown man. Wait until you are not in a temper and have a heart-to-heart talk with your wife's mother, letting her know, from your viewpoint, exactly what are rights and privileges. Don't try to use your wife as a go-between. Tell your story to her yourself, leaving your wife out of it.

A girl's mother is naturally going to try to get the best she can for her, but she's going the wrong way about it. It does seem too bad the two people whom this girl is first should make life harder for her when it is their desire to make it smoother.

Mrs. Martin will be glad to answer in this column questions of general interest. Mrs. Martin cannot reply individually to every correspondent. Names will not be published. Address her care of this paper.

"Dear Mrs. Martin: My wife says that all her friends are buying new fur coats this winter, and she doesn't see any reason why she shouldn't have one. When I open my pay envelope I can discover forty reasons why she shouldn't, inasmuch as I make $40 a week. Her mother takes the attitude that nothing is too good for her only child, but she doesn't contribute anything to the household expense and she eats three times a day. I could stand the old lady if she would only mind her own affairs. However, when I tell my wife there are plenty of well-dressed women who do not pay much for their clothes she says that I know the wrong kind. I don't know any of them very well, but some of the girls at the office tell me they can buy dresses at neighborhood stores that are good enough for anybody. "My wife can never find any of these stores, but that is my hard luck, I guess. Last Sunday morning at the breakfast table the subject of a fur coat came up and mother chimed right in. She has been living with us for a year, and it seems like two. I was told that I could buy my wife a fur coat if I gave up my bowling club and resigned from my lodge."

"This crack burned me up, and I told my mother-in-law she should keep out of affairs that did not concern her. She said her daughter was very much her own affair, and that was that. I left the table and went to spend the day with some men who get together every Sunday to play cards. When I got home the wife said I was half drunk and started to cry. That brought in mother-in-law again, and she said please, I started to talk about a fur overcoat, but now I guess I am talking about my in-laws. Well, anyway, you wouldn't advise me to let my wife buy a fur coat or a bigger investment than that of a good warm winter coat."

Many a cunning little rabbit and many an alley cat who has strayed ahead has sacrificed his life in order that women whose husbands make $40.00 a week may have a fur coat. You'd be surprised how little one needs to pay for a rabbit skin to trap anyone's grown-up Baby Bunting in. I doubt very much if your wife, or in all fairness, her mother, is thinking of buying sables.

You are all burned up, as you admit, over the interference of a mother-in-law, not because your wife is clamoring for fur.

Anyway, I imagine you have been tactless about the whole thing and have, in consequence, made matters much worse for yourself than they might have been. Give in about the coat to the extent that you would dearly love to drop her in ermine, but that unfortunately it cannot be done, and that you cannot bear the idea of seeing her in cheap furs. ## BRIDGES IN DEMAND ON A. F. L. CHIEF dent, L. L. A., actually informs that shipowners here are some players that deny union recognition in all United States ports.

"In view of J. P. Ryan's statement that L. L. A. in all United States ports will be ordered to supply Gulf strike November 1, we respectfully urge you clarify your position so shipowners cannot continue using your statements in their campaign against L. L. A."

NO EMBARGO

Both Bridges and William Lewis, district L. L. A. president, said no embargo will be called pending further developments, possibly new orders from Ryan. Bridges indicated he may demand a referendum on the proposed embargo.

The first of Gulf has come due in San Pedro Saturday when the S. S. Katrina Luckenbach docked. Reports that Lewis had informed the Luckenbach line and the Swayne & Hoyt organization that a boycott would be effective at midnight tonight on all cargoes to and from the Gulf, were denied by Lewis today.

He said he had conferred with Swayne & Hoyt regarding renewal of their agreement with the Gulf longshoremen's union, but had not communicated with the Luckenbach officials.

Report of the boycott order was circulated earlier today by spokesmen for the Waterfront Employers Association.

OAKLAND, Oct. 31. (AP) Fresh evidence of unauthorized shifting of bodies in the East Bay Mausoleum, has been found, Earl Warren, district attorney, said today.

He said one woman who bought a crypt for her husband found a body there. She visited the mausoleum and saw a man who bought a crypt for his wife. She claimed he found a whole body in the vault.

W. A. E. Noble, president of the Mausoleum, is under arrest. Investigation has been underway several days, following charges of a Texas woman that a pearl necklace disappeared from a corpse and that a body had been re-entombed from a crypt to the cellar.

British Guns Guard Gateway

EACH DAY the sun rises on new situations as tensions develop in the Mediterranean area, where the British fleet of 150 vessels stands guard over such key points as Gibraltar, Malta and the Suez Canal. Here is a glimpse of the Port Said entrance to the Canal. A British man-of-war is silhouetted against the sky as native fishermen start out for the day's catch.

over nearly all the Golden State. Frosts as far south as the lower San Joaquin valley caused a considerable damage to orchard fruit and vegetable crops. Principal harm was done in Northern California agricultural sections, according to reports from Sacramento to valley point.

The cold wave promised to bring genuine Eastern football weather to Western grid fans who were warned they will need their heaviest stadium clothes for Saturday's contests, even in Los Angeles. San Francisco registered the lowest October mark in its history, as the mercury hit 43 degrees early Thursday. Soda Springs, Sierra Nevada resort where the fall is frequently experienced in degree weather, and San Joaquin valley towns reported readings as low as 27.

Some cloudiness, accompanied by sporadic rainfall and snow in various regions were forecast for Friday.

British Not Satisfied By Peace Moves

LONDON, Oct. 31. (AP)—British government is not satisfied by Premier Benito Mussolini's gestures of conciliation and will keep its battleships in the Mediterranean while longer the Foreign Office announced today.

The British cabinet may be reduced if it meets these conditions:

1. Cession of Italian press attacks on Britain.

2. Elimination of other allied anti-British propaganda, including radio broadcasts.

3. Reduction of Italian troop concentration in Libya.

The delicate task of transmitting this message to Rome, British ambassador was entrusted to Sir Eric Drummond, British ambassador to Rome. In a long conference with Duce at the Venice palace last night, Sir Eric explained the withdrawal of one of four divisions of troops from Libya was in direct incentive to British requests.

BRITISH REPULSED

The British are repulsed at the improved tone of the Italian press since Sir Eric's visit, made it clear that the 150 warships from Gibraltar to Aden were evidence of Britain's readiness to resist attacks in the Mediterranean.

Likewise the denunciation of "Jews" soldiers from Libya is appreciated. Britain still respects the presence of four times as many Italian soldiers in Libya as England has in Egypt, according to.

Early plottings pledges that has caused some of his followers to withdraw and friendly amendment to the public opinion.

DETERMINING FACTOR

The news of the question therefore arises whether our politics in the future, shall be determined by the man who chooses to be president, or who has the ideas as expressed through representatives of the party in congressional assembly.

Mr. Roosevelt or any other president can arrogate to himself the right and authority to override the party and determine its course, our whole political system is not only wrecked, but superseded by one-man power; in other words a form of political dictatorship.

There has been a marked tendency of drifting towards dictatorship under the Roosevelt regime, but it is rather surprising to have one of his present followers, even here in Contra Costa county, to come out in the open and make such an admission.

ONLY ONE END

Perhaps I am mistaken but I believe that it will be quite a while before party principles and practices are this rudely shaken. There have been several interesting instances in this county where men thought they were greater than their party, but the moment they got that idea they had started on the first course of their political repudiation.

CONITIONS NAMED

2. Elimination of other allied anti-British propaganda, including radio broadcasts.

known to explorers as the "hell hole of creation". In a double offensive from their Mussa Ali base.

The invaders were repulsed in some confirmation was seen in reports that 10,000 Ethiopians were on route to ward to encounter with Dargawi's army in a final movement around Mussa Ali.

Mussa Ali, a towering mountain with ancient slaves' headless cases in its foothills, is 250 miles east northeast of Addis Ababa. Emperor Haile Selassie's army led its offensive just before the outbreak of war.

Two days ago

The Italian, now are reported to have established two bases, one north and one south of the mountain. From the north it is believed the Italian lines have struck out across the worst terrain in all Ethiopia with these two objectives:

1. Destroy headquarters of the Emperor's northern forces, where approximately a quarter of a million warriors await arrival of Haile Selassie to back the Italian left flank, about 60 miles from Mussa Ali.

2. The Addis Ababa-Dar-es-Salaam road between Addis Ababa and the French-Somali border, more than 250 miles from Mussa Ali, depending upon the route followed around the Addis Ababa-Dar-es-Salaam road.

STRENGTH EXPLAINED

THE ITALIAN ADVANCE NORTH-EAST FROM THE ADDIS ABABA-DAR-ES-SALAAM ROAD, Oct. 21. (AP) The Italian advance is becoming more and more a steady war with Ethiopia drawn to its own advantage.

It is following these lines:

1. An overbearing show of military force on the spot in an effort to force the Italian Emperor to accept the Italian terms.

2. A combination of military force and propaganda to convince the natives they will live better and more comfortably under an Italian overlord than they have under the rule of Emperor Haile Selassie.

3. A maximum of the most careful military preparation to avoid a single defeat which would shake the native belief in Italian invincibility.

Alustiza Has Operation At S. F. Hospital

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31. (AP) Frank Alustiza, Stanford University football player, underwent an operation upon his eye this morning at Stanford hospital.

Dr. Hans Barkan, who operated upon the Cardinal backfield a week ago, said the operation was successful.

Alustiza's eye was injured in the game with UCLA three weeks ago. The retina was torn in two places, medical authorities said, threatening his eyesight.

Alustiza was removed to the Stanford hospital here from Palo Alto two days ago.

He is expected to remain in the hospital from two to three weeks in convalescence. Complete success of the operation cannot be determined until the eye muscles have healed, it was explained.

al building, which came through the October 18 quake with little harm. Both the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies were maintaining communication with the outside world, although the former was forced to move to temporary quarters.

E. S. Transue, emergency disaster relief director of the American Red Cross, who came here to direct relief operations after the first quake, estimated that his agency's relief case load would be doubled.

COLD WEATHER

Chilly weather added to the discomfort of these made homeless from the tremors. The coldest October weather in years has descended upon Montana and the Northwest and near-zero temperatures hampered workmen and relief officials. Little campfires were seen throughout the city as homeless huddled over them to keep warm.

The county courthouse received considerable damage from falling stonework.

St. John's hospital was evacuated shortly after the quake.

SCHOOL RUINED

Two men working on a scaffold at St. John's school were thrown to the ground and required hospital treatment.

The new Helena high school, completed this fall at an expense of a half million dollars, was declared a total ruin today. The first quake damaged it considerably but some hopes were felt that it could be reconstructed. The quake today caused more great cracks in the walls and shook down additional masonry.

The massive state capital building escaped serious damage, as it did in the first quake.
